Production, patience and perseverance were readily built into staff members as they raced against deadlines; but this book would have been impossible without the guidance of Mr. Ingersoll, to whom we pay our tributes.

The qualifications specified for the principal of a secondary school today are legion. The desirable traits of personal character number many more. If a person would sit down and list all these, surely he would get discouraged. The natural question would be where to find a person anywhere to fit this complex picture. Members of the A. A. school family would answer en masse, "Where O where, but in Adelphian."

Adelphian students have learned that whether it's a minor personal problem, a tough Biblical question, or a major educational crisis which confronts them, there is one door on the campus always open--the door to the Principal's office. They've learned that the smiling, exuberant man behind the desk is ready to listen, to advise, to pray with them. The temporarily discouraged staff member likewise finds behind the same desk, a pair of broad shoulders on which to roll his problems.

We Dedicate

Whether he's busy with his dynamic discussions in Bible Doctrines, plugging through a deskful of correspondence, directing the Chapel devotions, driving the bus on a choir trip, hatching up a new activity for the Senior class, or planning how to get the student body to raise more "Shi" subscriptions, Elder R. W. Pratt's day is sure to be a busy one. That he can keep up the terrific pace with a perpetual smile on his face is a marvel to all.

The theme of the 1954-55 Bell Echoes is built around that small, but important thing--the keyhole. Elder Pratt's 200 odd pounds and six foot frame would not let him be called something small--but he certainly is something important to everything at Adelphian--as important as the key itself.

Because he is the key to so much of the activities at Adelphian--in the educational program, the religious emphasis, the cultural development, the recreational activities--in fact in all that makes Adelphian the school "where education is life" and because of the deep and abiding place he holds in the affections of the school family, the Annual Staff affectionately dedicate the 1954-55 edition of the Bell Echoes to Adelphian's key personality--Principal Roger W. Pratt.

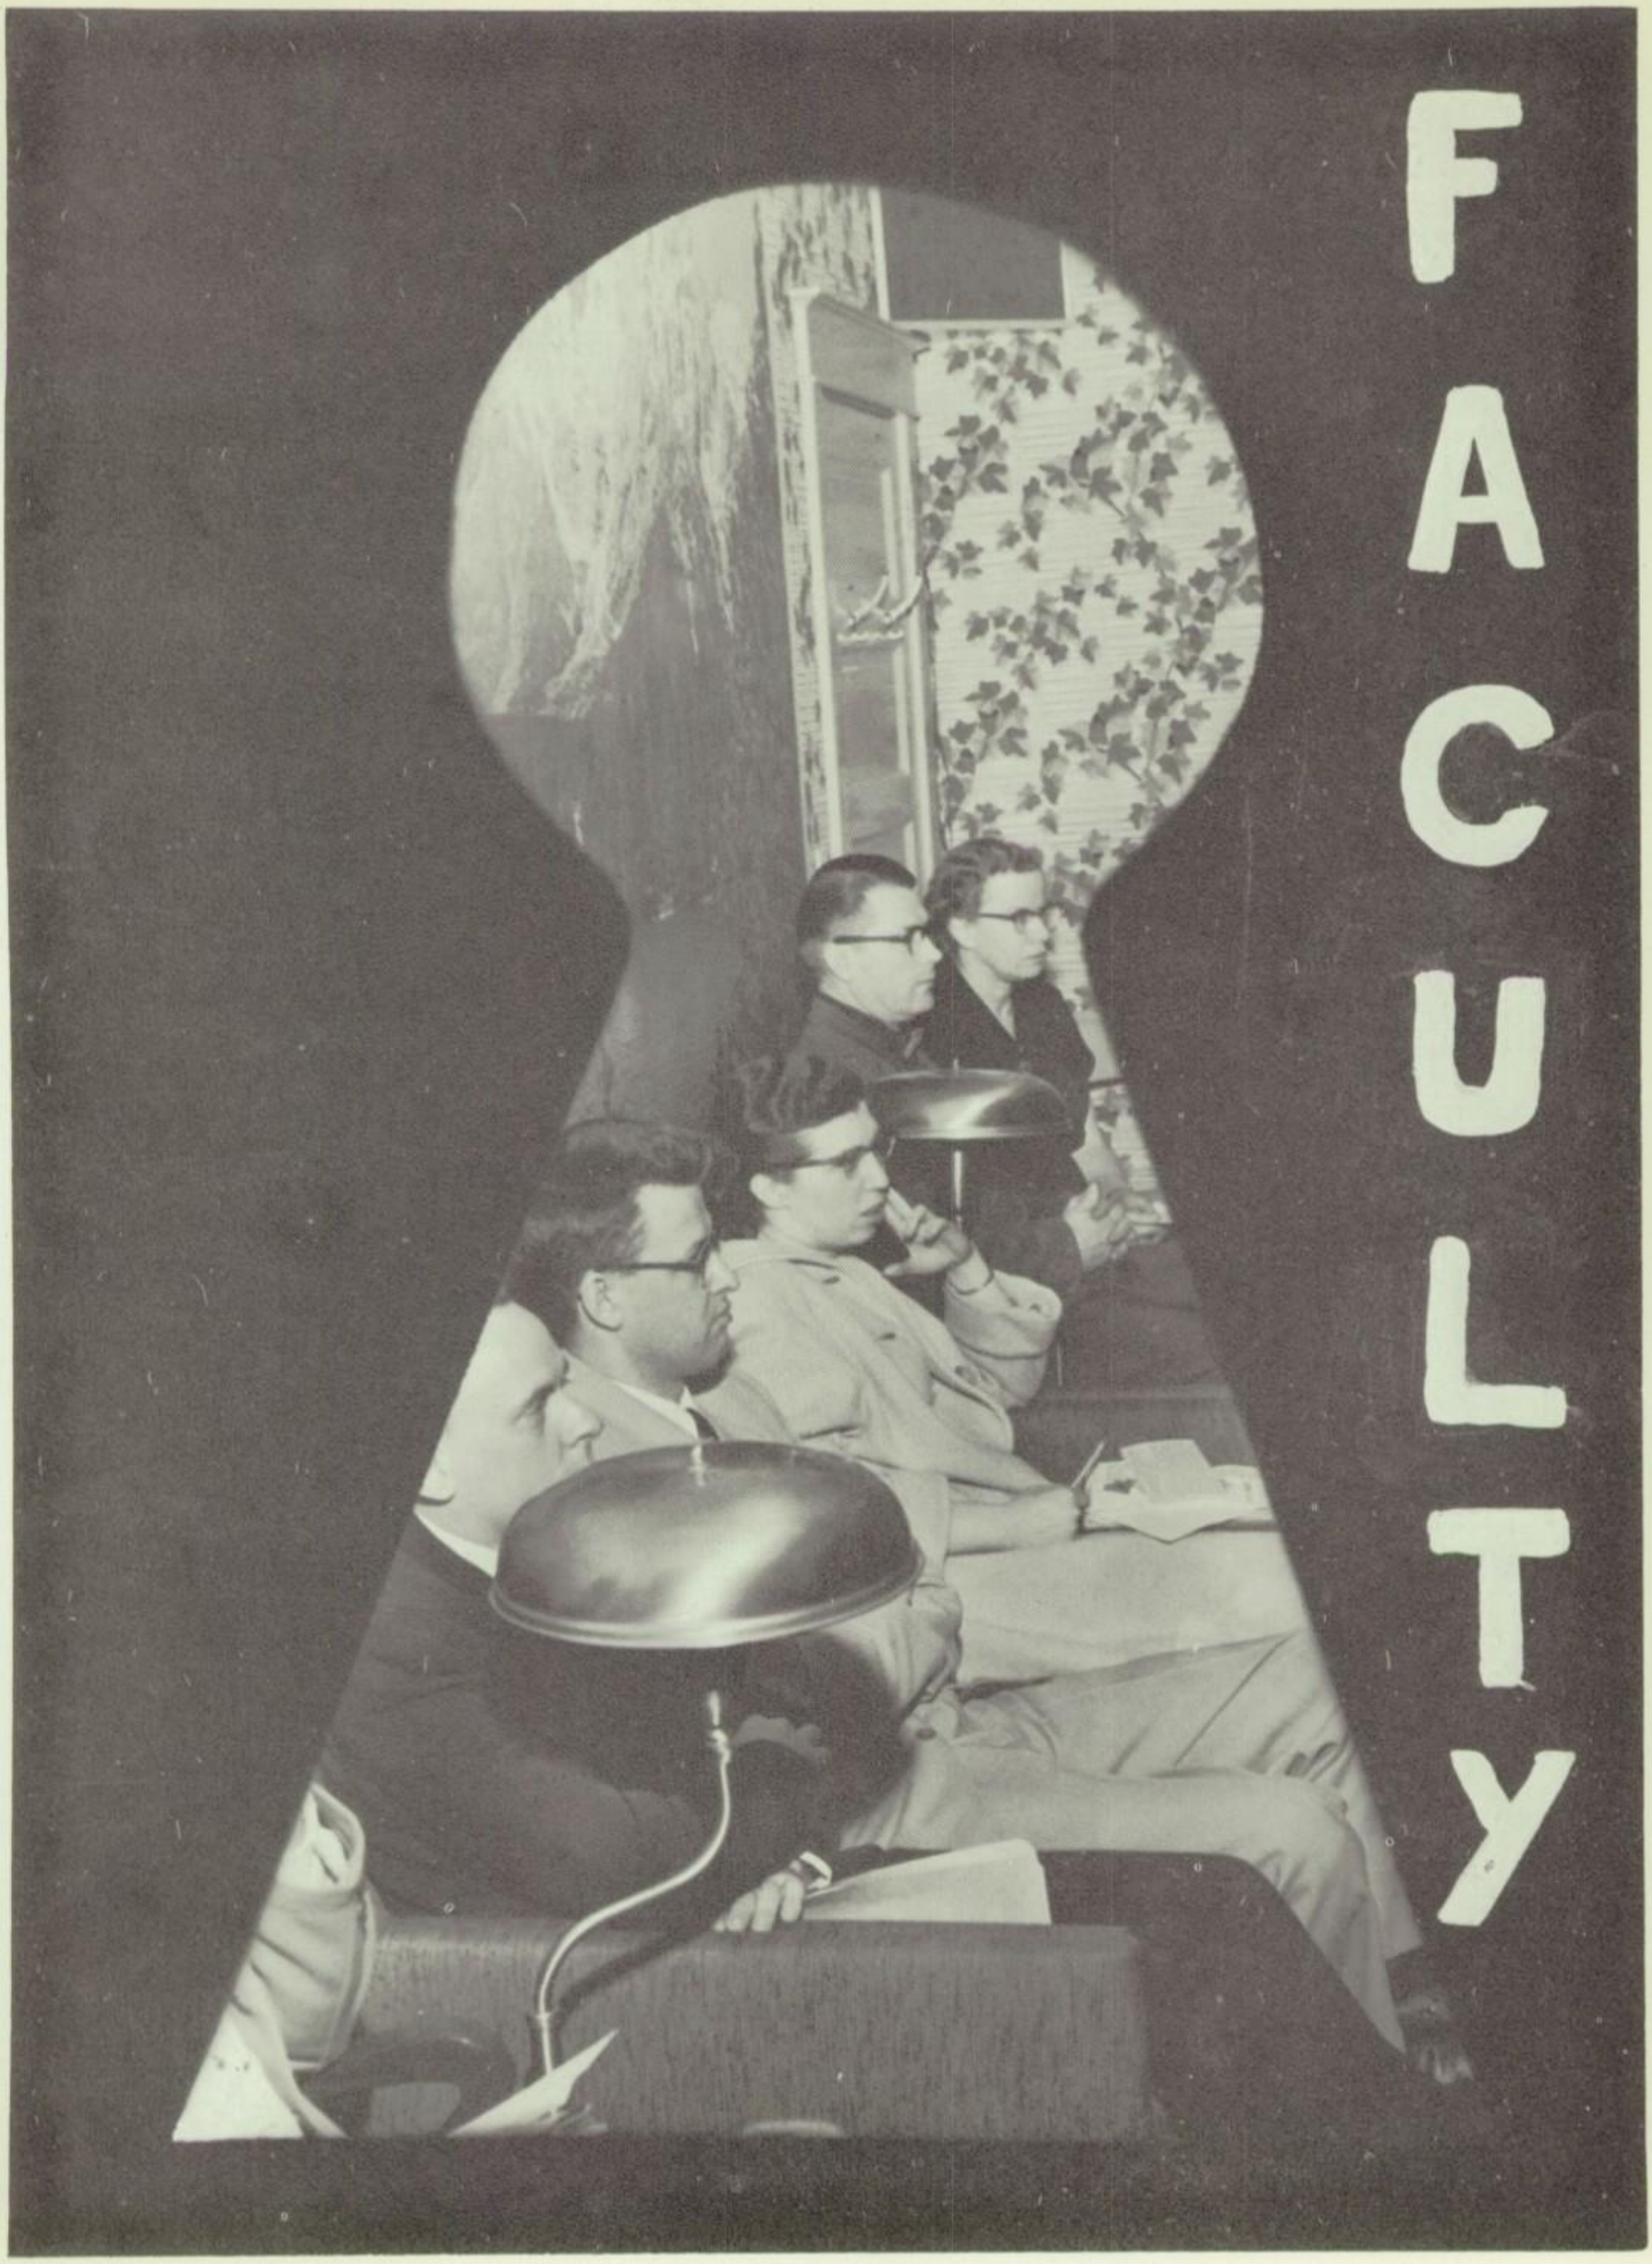
Seventh-day Adventists believe in Christian education as a part of the church program just as much as any other phase of the Advent Message. Facts and figures have given proof over and over again of the value of young people attending schools where the atmosphere and training is based on Bible teaching. We realize that the public schools can not give a religious mold and we would not want it that way. We count it a privilege to live in a country where we are allowed, in addition to supporting the public schools through taxes, to support our own schools for the training of young people along the lines of the Advent Message. Our schools provide the leadership for our cause. Future Adventist teachers, ministers, medical workers and administrators are now attending classes in our schools somewhere. We thank the Lord for the teachers who are devotedly giving their lives for the molding of the youth for a place in the work here on earth and a preparation for the home in Heaven.

G. E. Hutches

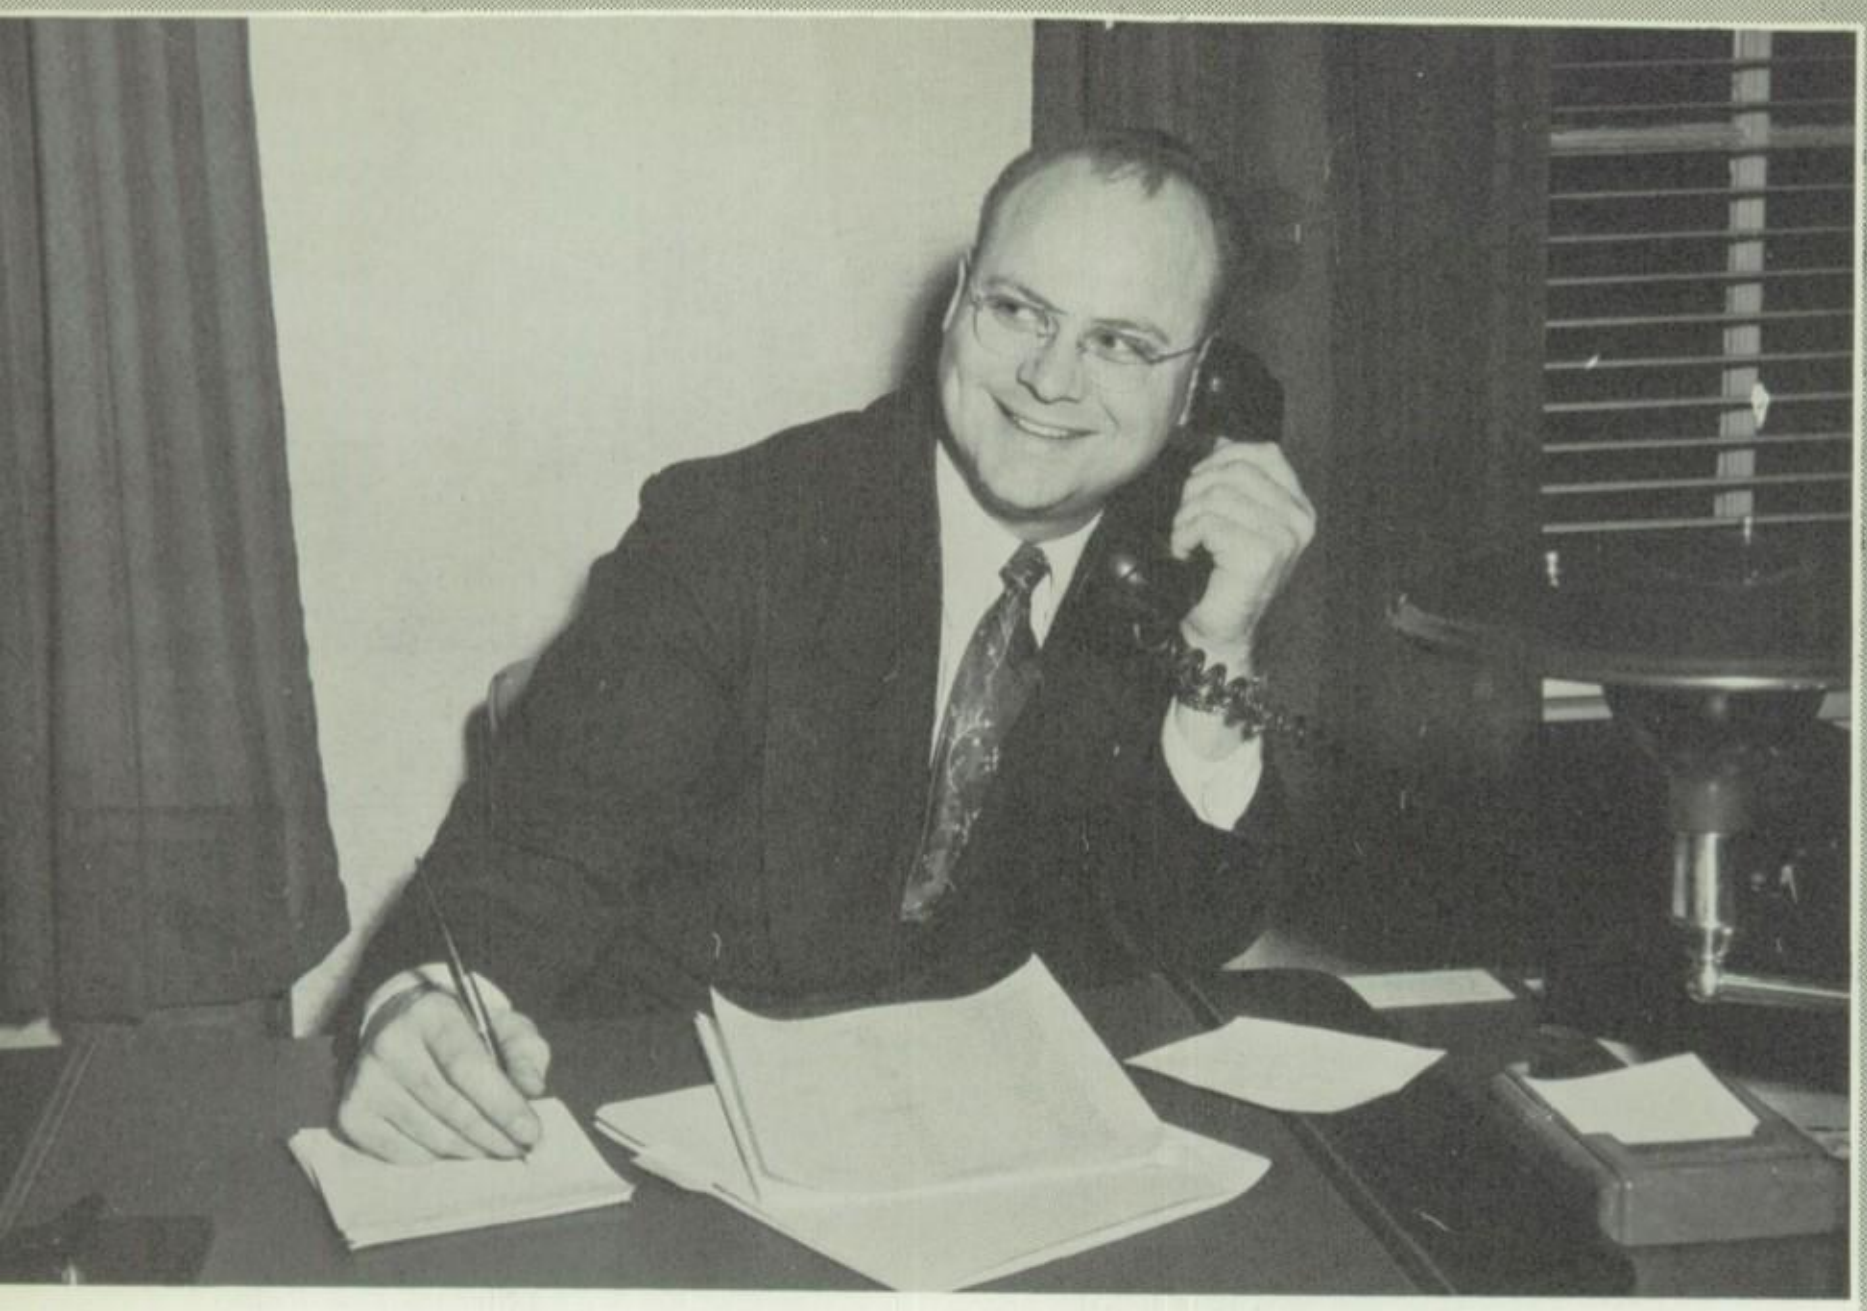
The Adelphian faculty and students are anxious to give honor to the faithful members of our Academy Board. Elder G. E. Hutches, our chairman, has given splendid leadership to the advancement of the work of our school. Our deepest appreciation for that leadership cannot be spelled in words. The joy of association and fellowship with such a Christian leader of progressive vision cannot be adequately placed within the confines of any written message. We can merely breathe a prayer of thanksgiving to the Father of us all and have faith that He understands the unutterable expressions of our hearts.

Those of us at Adelphian appreciate the cooperation of every Board member and wish to express gratitude for their fine help.

Mr. Pratt



FACULTY



Principal's Message

"There is no limit to the usefulness of the one who, putting self aside makes room for the working of the Holy Spirit upon his heart and lives a life wholly consecrated to God." Ministry of Healing, p. 159. May the Seniors of the class of 1955 leave the Adelphian campus with a full realization of the meaning of true J-O-Y; Jesus first, Others second, Yourself last.

"The warfare against self is the greatest battle that was ever fought." Steps to Christ, p. 47. Our present world with its whirlwind of selfish pleasures often causes the youth to depend upon self first, treat others secondly and consider Jesus last in life, if at all.

Adelphian Academy is dedicated to the youth of Eastern Michigan where "Education is Life," life more abundant, life where Jesus Christ is the center, "the way, the truth and the life." John 14:6.

Many students attending Adelphian have found in a single moment of grace the work of God upon their hearts in converting power. They suddenly become aware that the Lord is in their life. They are no longer self-centered now but they are God-centered. Launching into real joy, they possess an inner peace where outer events can no longer ruffle their experience or handicap their faith. What they have is not important any longer; the only thing that really matters is what they are, and what they are is God's children--Students of today and leaders of tomorrow, aiming for service, not fame.

SEMINAR

Seminar Officers

President—Leslie Neal
Vice-President—Roger Hirst
Secretary—Pat Glasgow
Members at Large—Keith Dowell
Carolyn Kowalski

The Ministerial Seminar is a self-selected organization whose members love to share their faith and to work for other youth. This organization serves as a training unit for those who seek experience in giving Christian talks, telling stories for children, and providing music for worship services.

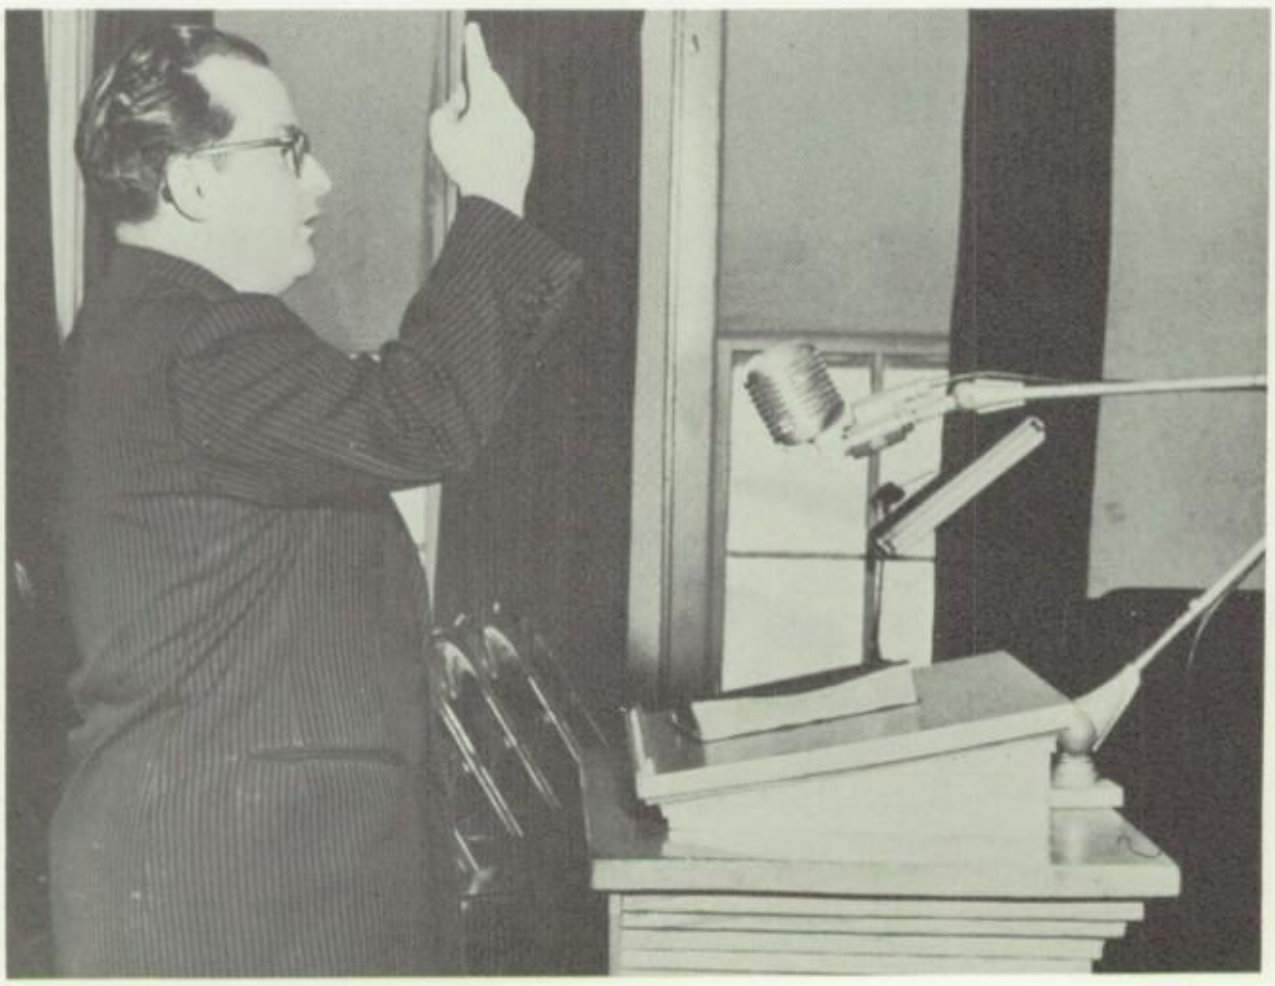
During the past school year the Seminar has held its regular weekly meetings each Friday evening. The Seminar has visited over thirty churches in Eastern Michigan and helped with the Sabbath worship service. In addition to these activities it has assisted at times in chapel and other religious meetings at the school.

Religious Emphasis

Elder J. B. Church
Pastor of Ann Arbor

The Adelphian School body received much spiritual blessing from the week-of-prayer sermons by Elders J. B. Church and W. C. Neff. With twenty-four inspiring meetings during the two weekly periods, which emphasized the need of God, the students truly demonstrated the advice brought to them.

They only regretted that more such ministers could not visit the campus and give the wonderful sermons, which were so well received by all.



Elder W. C. Neff
Pastor of Ferndale

SUNSHINE BAND

The joy of spreading sunshine and Christ into the lives and hearts of the patients in the Pontiac Infirmary was led by Gloria Stevens, Claudia Letson, and Gordon Case for the first semester. Janet Irving, Mike Duffy, and Jim Redfield shared this privilege the second semester. This "Sunshine Band" was a success because of the willingness of the students to lend their voices in singing hymns in the hospital halls on Sabbath afternoon.

TEMPERANCE

Adelphian's temperance chapter was very happy to announce the achievement of 100% membership this year. Under the capable guidance of Leslie Neal, Pat Glasgow, Bill Oviatt, and Kay Arms, the temperance officers, A. A. launched a number of successful jingle, poster, and poem contests.

Let's all work together to make every year at Adelphian a temperance year!

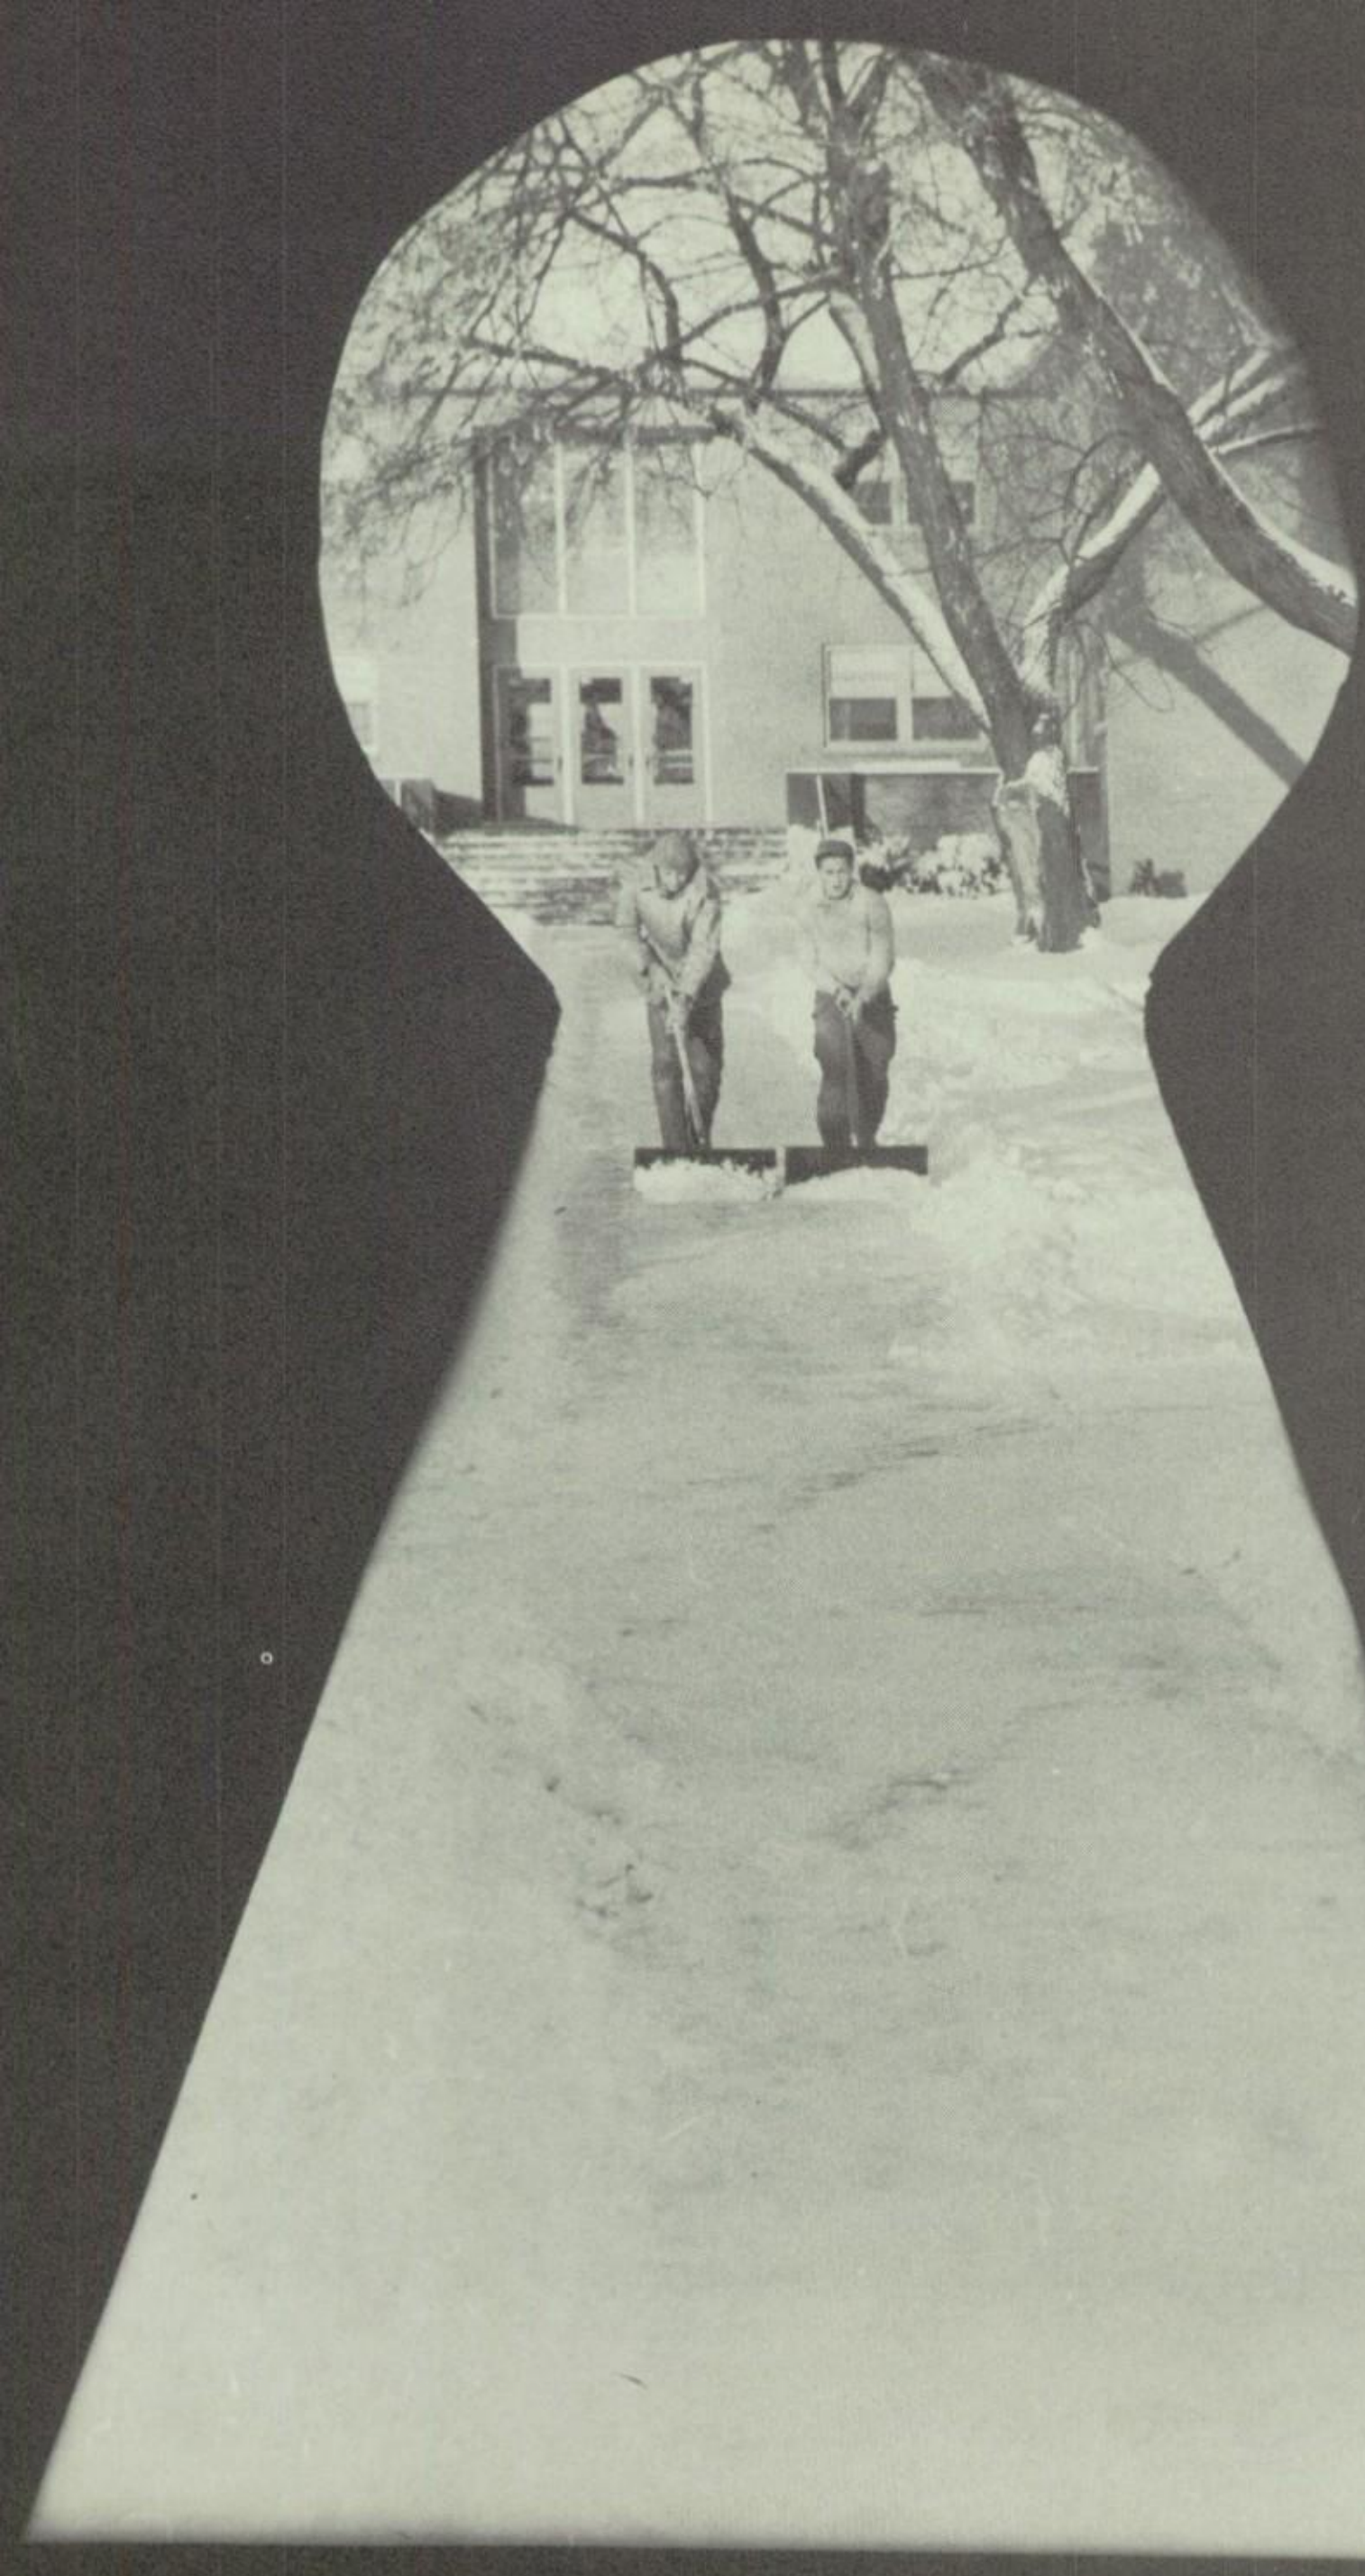
TEACHERS OF TOMORROW



MANUAL

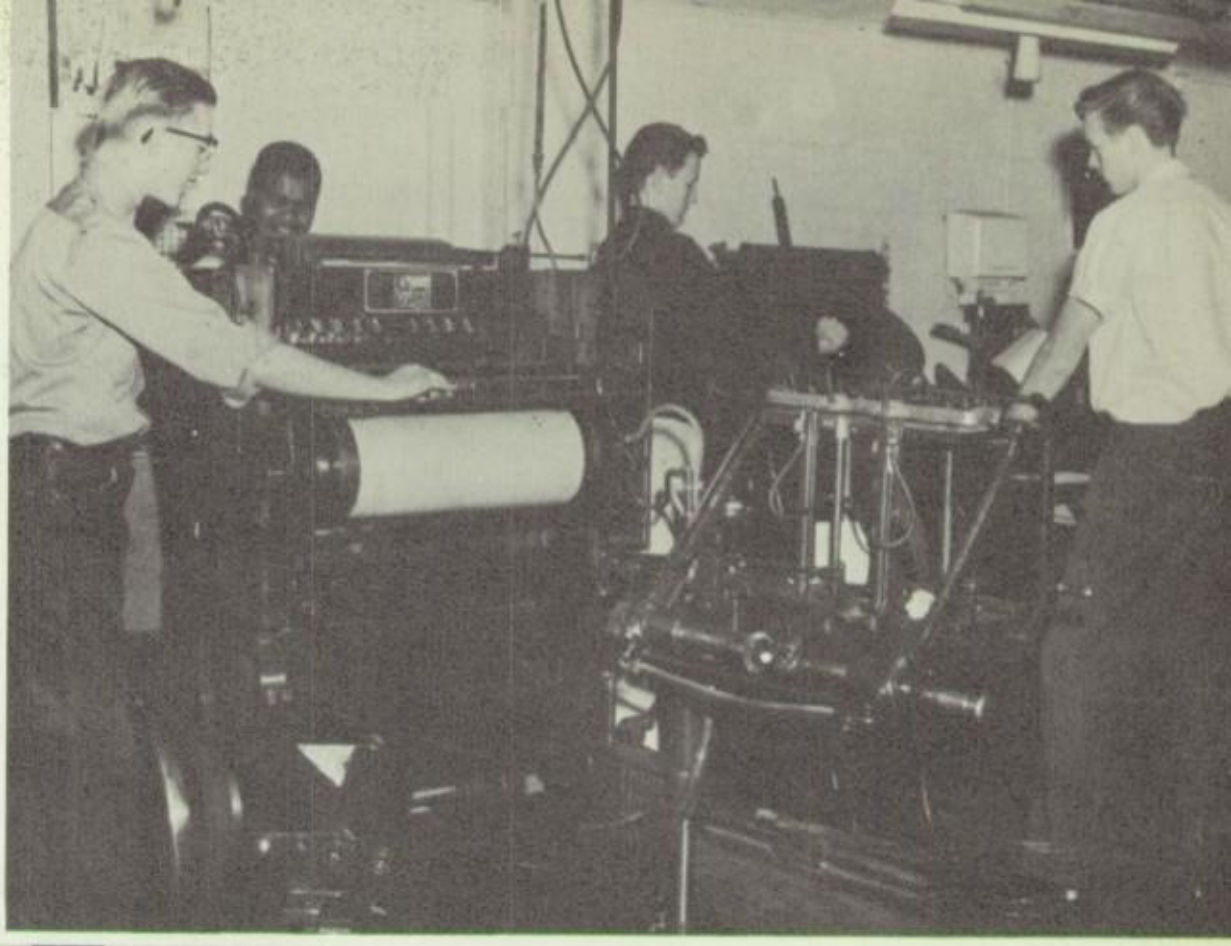
Adelphian Mill is a modern factory operating in a two story fire-proof building, having 53,000 square feet of floor space. It manufactures beautiful garden items — trellis, arches, pergolas, planters, bird houses, bird feeders, and lawn tables.

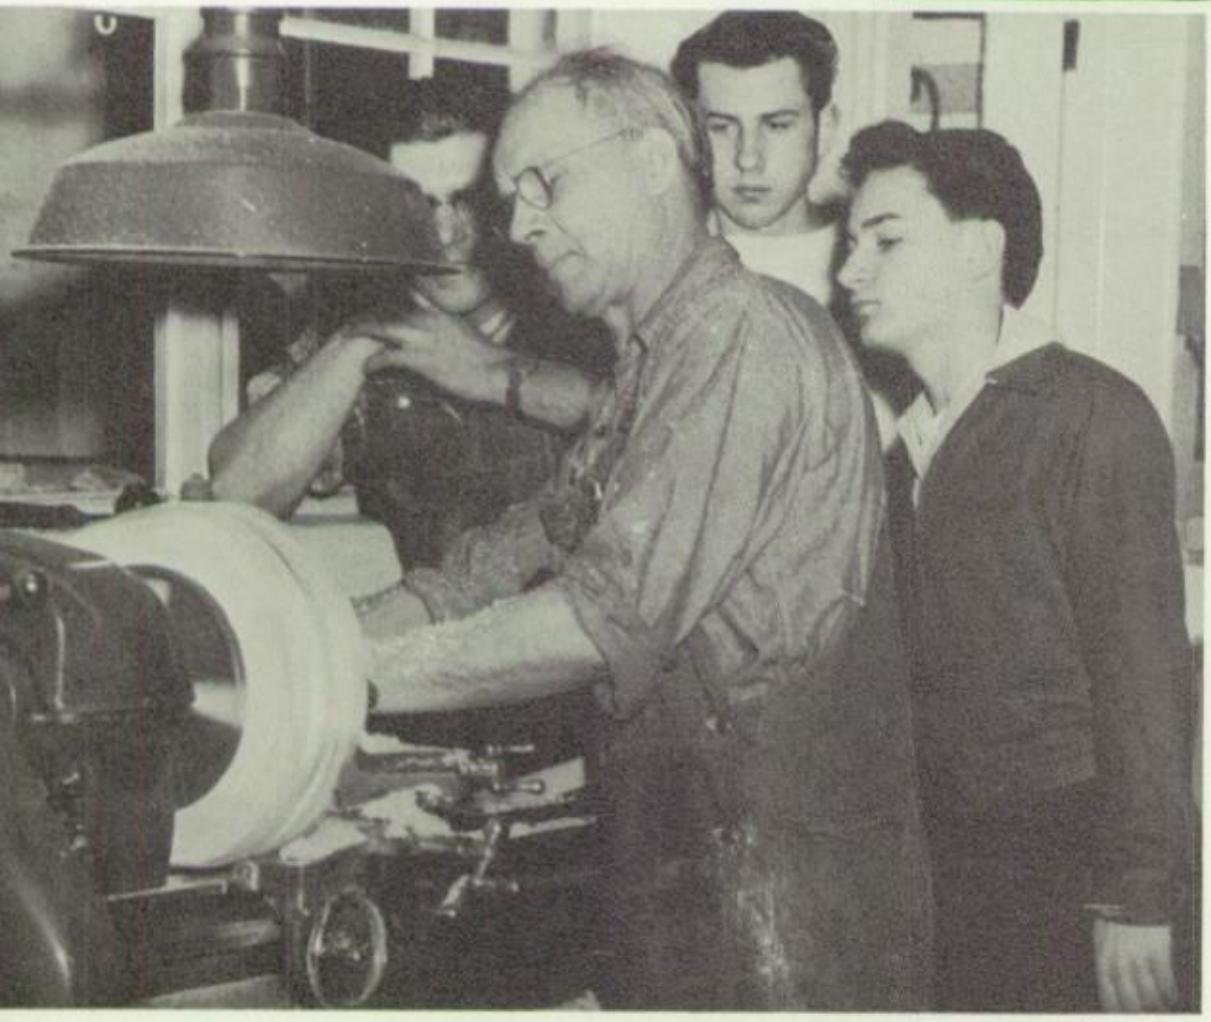
About 75 students are employed who earn between thirty and forty thousand dollars annually.

The Adelphian Academy laundry, complete with modern equipment, provides a pleasant atmosphere in which to work. This school year forty-eight girls with the supervision of Mrs. Cole have completed the student laundries, as well as approximately 115 laundries, which constitutes the commercial work done.

One of the busiest and most important places on our campus is the cafeteria under the direction of Mrs. Hansen. Thirty-five girls and two boys help with the daily task of preparing three well balanced meals, and aid Mrs. Rhodes, the bakery supervisor. Our dining room is under the able direction of Mrs. Spalding.
tion of Mrs. Spaulding.

Printing is one of the most useful vocations a student can have to help earn his way through school. A knowledge of printing aids a man in nearly any line of work he may do in later life. Learn to print and you have learned a good thing.

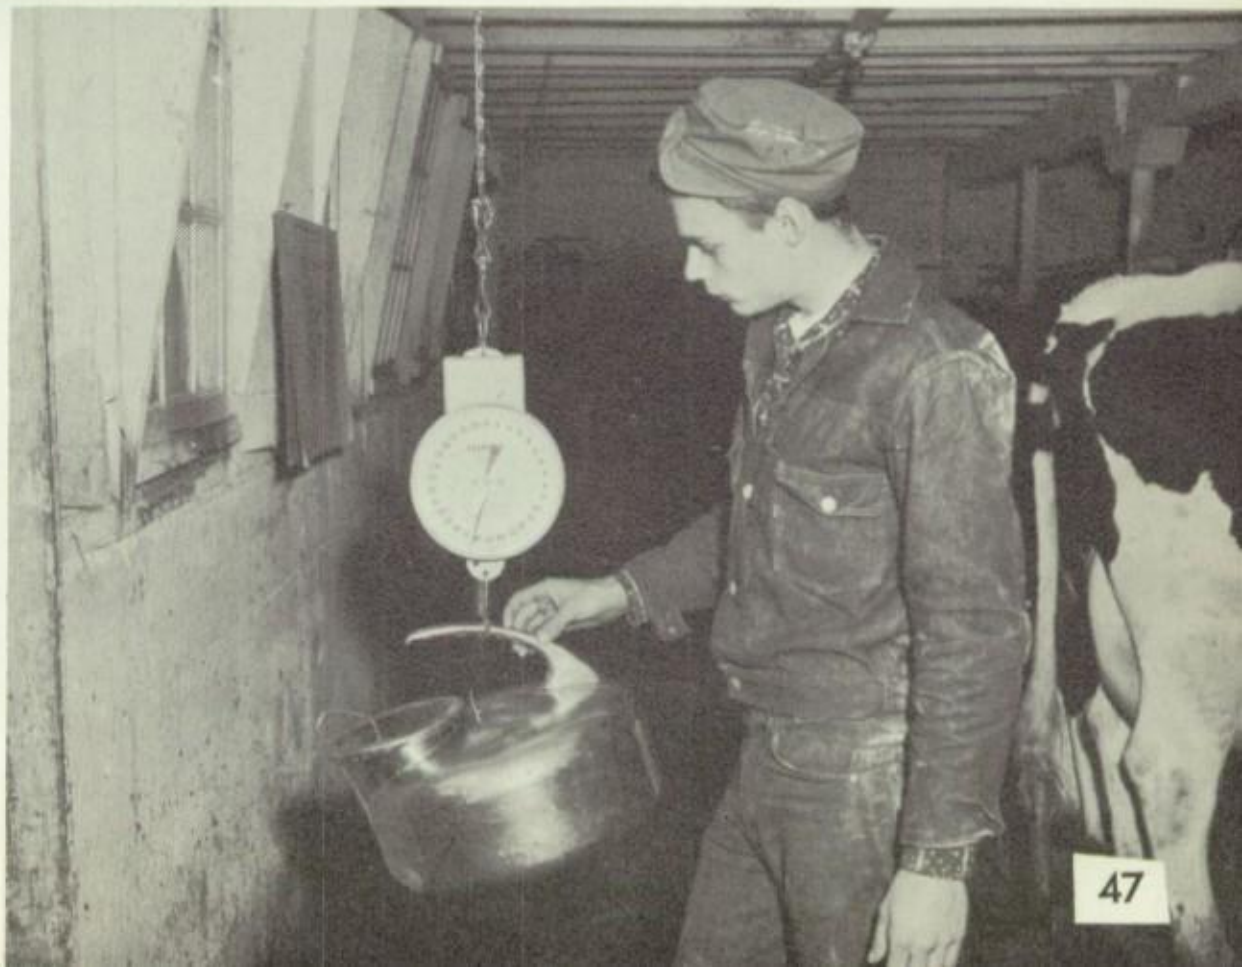




Seemingly the busiest of all people of the Adelphian campus are the maintenance director, Mr. Cole, and his crew of helpers. The large task of keeping everything in "ship-shape" condition is their job.

The farm and dairy provide work for more than 40 boys to the value of over $11,000.00 annually.

One of the many responsibilities of the boys is the care of our 28 dairy cows which produced over 260,000 lbs. of milk last year. The dairy boys working in our modern dairy house pasteurized, homogenized and bottled more than 15,000 quarts, 54,000 pints, and 72,000 half pints of milk and made over 400 gallons of ice cream.



In the girls' dorm is an opportunity to help with expenses. There are endless jobs to be done in the upkeep of the building and keeping dormitory life running smoothly and efficiently. Miss Foreman, with the monitors, does an excellent job of promoting a Christian atmosphere among the girls.

With service as its motto, the Business Office plugs away day after day and year after year, meeting the demands of student and faculty alike. Its efficiency, attested to by the fact that statements and reports go out on time, serves in turn to prove the faithfulness of the school family in providing essential information when needed.

CHOIR

The choir is an organization of about forty-eight members which travels as a booster group from Adelphian Academy in the eastern Michigan area.

They have had several appearances in many of the churches in this area, including Detroit, Pontiac, Saginaw, Ann Arbor, Jackson. as well as the high school at Goodrich. (A special group within the choir, called the "Harmonettes," exchanged programs with Cedar Lake Academy.)

It isn't always work! These energetic, vivacious young people have had a few social functions, such as a choplet fry, pizza feed, and the privilege of attending several concerts (if their G.P.A. was "C" average!).

A spirit of unity is evident in the group and it is their desire to sing in the "Heavenly choir" soon.

The 50-minute written examination designed and judged by Science Research Associates of Chicago, which was given to all participants in this national search, consisted of multiple choice and subjective questions which tested the students' attitude and knowledge in the major areas of homemaking.

Each girl who took the test received a 24-page homemaking guide which will assist her in pursuing the career of homemaking.

Dear Mr. & Mrs. [illegible]

I have really enjoyed being a student of both of you. I only regret I don't have another year to improve. You're both just swell, especially in teaching. I hope to see you both next year, as I have a nice summer, miss all you. a student

Love,
Mary Ellen.

P.S. Never forget the field trip, or the pink & white checks. Eh!?!.
